

SHIPBUILDINGFrequency of Meetings: - 2 meetingsCmd
- 1 meetings, ONI

| SC MembersEvaluation | Valuable?   | Continue?                       | Future Work?   | Faults?                       |
|----------------------------------|--|--|---|--------------------------------------|
| AFOIN                            | Yes  | Yes                                    | Shipbuilding estimates and basic assumptions  | -                                    |
| G-2                              | Too early to tell. If program scheduled for next 2 years is accomplished, it will fill a very large intelligence gap | Yes - at least for time being. Monthly | Complete work already outlined  | Too early to tell                    |
| ONI                              | Of value   | Yes                                    | Coordination of research effort. Meetings as required                                   | Off to a good start                  |
| ORR                              | Yes - has improved working relations with ONI- contact and coordination  | Yes                                    | Complete collection and research deficiency studies; attempt to reach agreed statistics | Very new committee no faults to date |

Subcommittee's Evaluation of Itself (From Annual Report)

"The Subcommittee has held only two meetings during FY 55, and has not as yet realized its full potential as a medium for inter-agency review and cooperation.

"The Subcommittee has encountered no problems or situations which impede its efficient functioning.

"The future program of the Subcommittee includes the following:

1. Completion of a report on critical research deficiencies.
2. Report on critical collection deficiencies.
3. Consideration of agreed basic statistics including a methodology for arriving at estimates of shipyard capabilities.

"With regard to agreed basic statistics the Subcommittee has under study a methodology for arriving at estimates of maximum annual capacity of a shipyard."

~~SECRET~~

Secretariat's Evaluation of Subcommittee Activities:

This is a very new subcommittee, which has hardly started its activities. So far it seems to be getting on famously.

Recommended EIC Action:

To commend the Subcommittee for its excellent start, and to ask that it keep on along the lines already laid out.

~~SECRET~~